

David Chayer

Managing Director, Developer Enablement and Platform Delivery

---

David Chayer is Managing Director of Developer Enablement and Platform Delivery at DTCC. In this capacity, he leads the firm's public cloud strategy and global adoption of platform capabilities and governance. Additionally, Dave oversees platform delivery squads and the Developer Enablement organization. Prior to working at DTCC, he served as Executive Director of IT, Enterprise Infrastructure and Operations for Omgeo, which was acquired by DTCC in 2014.

David is skilled in leading global teams and delivering complex, business critical infrastructure. He has extensive experience managing IT in highly regulated industries, having consistently worked with several U.S. regulators on behalf of numerous organizations and the industry.

He has over 25 years of experience in enterprise infrastructure, engineering, and operations. He spends his time enjoying outdoor activities and volunteering with a number of local non-profit organizations.

David holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Maine.