

Neelesh Prabhu

Managing Director, Architecture and Enterprise
Services and Chief Technology Architect

Neelesh Prabhu is Managing Director of Architecture & Enterprise Services and Chief Architect in Information Technology at DTCC, where he is responsible for driving traditional architecture services, as well as the delivery of common and shared capabilities to enable greater agility and efficiencies across the enterprise. Neelesh also oversees the firm's digital workplace services and IT governance functions.

Neelesh manages global technical teams encompassing data, architecture, infrastructure, governance and development disciplines. Neelesh is a proven leader, driving modernization of the firm's technology and in recent years, his teams have advanced firm's capabilities by delivering next generation technology architecture, modernized client interfaces and data capabilities. Neelesh has deep expertise managing complex, strategic initiatives that drive change in the financial services industry across business architecture, next generation technologies and other new product development opportunities.

Neelesh has over 25 years of experience in financial services industry. Prior to joining DTCC, he served as Senior Vice President of Commercial Technology for TD Bank.

He holds an MBA in Finance and Management from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business and a Bachelor of Science in Technology and Computer Science from the Indian Institute of Technology.

DTCC is the premier post-trade market infrastructure for the global financial services industry. From 20 locations around the world, DTCC, through its subsidiaries, automates, centralizes, and standardizes the processing of financial transactions, mitigating risk, increasing transparency, enhancing performance and driving efficiency for thousands of broker/dealers, custodian banks and asset managers. To learn more, visit www.dtcc.com.