

Laure Fauchet

Director, Government Relations (London)

Laure is Director of Government Relations UK. In this role, Laure primarily focuses on policy issues that directly impact the financial markets, DTCC and its clients. She represents DTCC's interests and public policy positions to UK officials and works closely with policymakers, supervisors, and industry trade associations to help shape UK legislative and regulatory policies on critical industry issues.

Laure has around fifteen years' experience in financial services, most recently at the Bank of England where she served as policy advisor on financial stability issues for seven years. Prior to that, she also held several capital market-related roles at Societe Generale.

Laure holds a B.S. and a Master of Science in Management from Emlyon business school in France.

DTCC is the premier post-trade market infrastructure for the global financial services industry. From 20 locations around the world, DTCC, through its subsidiaries, automates, centralizes, and standardizes the processing of financial transactions, mitigating risk, increasing transparency, enhancing performance and driving efficiency for thousands of broker/dealers, custodian banks and asset managers.
