

Matthew Stauffer

Managing Director, Head of Institutional Trade Processing, DTCC President & Chief Executive Officer, DTCC ITP LLC.

Matthew Stauffer is Managing Director, Head of Institutional Trade Processing at President & Chief Executive Officer, DTCC ITP LLC. Matt is responsible for overseeing DTCC's middle-office trade processing solutions, including Central Trade Manager, Margin Transit Utility, OASYS, TradeSuite ID and ALERT as well as the GMEI utility, DTCC's global GLEIF-accredited Local Operating Unit (LOU).

Prior to this position, Matt was CEO of Clariant Global LLC, a former DTCC company founded in collaboration with six banks until it was acquired by Thomson Reuters in February 2017, dedicated to helping firms meet client data and documentation needs for internal onboarding as well as comply with a broad range of regulatory requirements.

Before this, he was Managing Director, Strategy and Business Development at DTCC, where he was responsible for developing common industry platforms across DTCC's middle-office businesses. Matt was also head of DTCC's Business Transformation Office, where he was responsible for assessing and reengineering structures and processes to deliver greater business value. He remains a member of DTCC's Innovation Council and the DTCC Investment and Operating Committee.

Matt has over 20 years of financial services industry experience, including strategy, business development, operations and technology.

Prior to joining DTCC in 2004, he worked at Accenture in their Financial Services Transformation practice, focused on organizational transformation and business re-engineering.

Matt graduated from Cornell University with a Bachelor of Science degree.

About DTCC
