Subject:	Hurricane Milton – Service Update

In preparation for Hurricane Milton, which has intensified to a major storm and is expected to reach the gulf coast of Florida by October 9, 2024, DTCC has completed the transfer of critical business operations from its Tampa site to out-of-region locations. This action was taken in accordance with DTCC’s business continuity and resilience strategy and as a precautionary measure to ensure availability of products, services and client support, as well as to protect market stability, during the storm. While the Tampa office will be closed through at least October 10, 2024, DTCC will continue to maintain the seamless delivery of services to clients.

Clients should contact their Relationship Manager or regular point of contact with any questions.
