JAPANESE issuers have announced a cash dividend and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. acts as one of the Depositories for the Depository Receipt ("DR") programs.

A participant can use DTC's Corporate Actions Web ("CA Web") instructions tab to certify that all or a portion of his/her position is subject to the applicable withholding tax rate. Use of these instruction methods will permit entitlement amounts to be paid through DTC. By making submissions of such certification, the submitter represents and warrants that it has the required authority to make; that the party for which the submission is made is eligible therefore, and that the submitter will indemnify, as applicable, Globe Tax Services, Inc., the relevant Depository custodian, and any other person acting, directly or indirectly, in reliance thereon, including for any loss, liability or expense which may arise in connection with any such representation and submission, including for any inaccuracy therein.

On ADR pay date, all record date holders will have the opportunity to receive their full treaty as outlined in the "Eligibility Matrix". All uncertified holders will receive this dividend net of the full Japanese statutory withholding tax rate of the 15.31500% with the possibility to reclaim in the long form process.

Japanese dividends with June 2026 Record Dates are outlined in the Dividend Event Matrix below.

NOTE: Please note that the Japanese Tax Office has the legal authority to audit claims filed for a period of seven years so it is the DTC Participant's responsibility to ensure that your document retention policies for US withholding tax documentation are adequate to support potential audits from the Japanese Tax Office.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

AT SOURCE

What information does the beneficiary need to disclose in order to receive favorable tax treatment?	Name, address, country of residence, and share position. A tax ID number is required only for U.S. residents.
Do shareholders requesting 15.315% withholding need to disclose information?	No, disclosure does not apply. Please refer to relief at-source eligibility matrix for documentation requirements.
Will holders wishing to benefit from favorable tax treatment need to furnish supporting documentation up front?	No, brokers must store W-9 and W-8BEN on file in case of an audit.
Does the Japanese law require a certification of residence (Form 6166) to participate in the reclaim process?	No. The law governing the processing of DRS does not require the presence or collection of a certification of residency (Form 6166) though participants may be required to prove the eligibility of the underlying investors. Upon review of the W-9 and W-8BEN forms the Japanese tax office agreed to accept these as proof of eligibility.
Will a certificate of residence (Form 6166) be requested during an audit?	The Japanese ministry of finance reserves the right to request any other documentation it may need to determine the eligibility of the investor. We have been advised that the Japanese tax office may request a certificate of residency in rare circumstances where the information provided is inconsistent and cannot be confirmed through the provision of other documents or explanations.
Who is considered a “large shareholder”?	Individual (non-corporate) investors who hold 3% or more of the number of outstanding shares for dividend income from listed shares, now fall under the "large shareholder" category. These "large shareholders" will no longer be eligible for the preferential tax rates and thus be applied the 20.42% tax rate for dividends paid after September 30, 2011. Participants are required to disclose the name and address of these "large shareholders" to the depositary by the deadline stated within this notice. Corporate entities (both Japanese and non-Japanese) who hold 3% or more of the number of outstanding shares for dividend income from listed shares are still entitled to the preferential withholding rates and are eligible to receive the income with a 15.315% withholding rate applied or more if eligible based on the treaty between the investors country of residence and Japan. Dividend income for unlisted shares will continue to be withheld at the 20.42% Japanese national tax rate.

LONG FORM

Can I submit a trust agreement in lieu of a POA signed by the beneficial owner?

Yes, but a limited POA signed by the participant must be accompanied by the trust agreement.

Are Form 6166s with IRS code ruling 81-100 accepted?

Yes, with a tax determination letter & pension declaration letter.

Does the beneficiary's name on the Form 6166 need to match the POA?

Yes, the beneficiary's name on both documents should be identical.

Does the long form process have a minimum position requirement per beneficial owner?

Yes, please call for more details.

What is the statute of limitations for filing Japanese reclaims?

It is 5 years from ordinary pay date. Claims received after our submission deadline will be filed in good faith.

What if the beneficial owner's name and/or address is not consistent with the other documents?

Please send a letter on participant letterhead explaining the discrepancy and be sure to include the tax ID number.

How often are long form claims filed with the Japanese custodians?

Due to quarterly filing limitations GlobeTax files on February 20th, May 20th, August 20th & November 20th of each year.

Will the depositary accept claims filed directly to them by beneficial owners?

The depositary only accepts claims filed by the DTC participant who was holding securities through DTC and only to the extent that DTC has reported these holdings to us as valid record date holdings. Beneficial owners are required to file their claims through the custody chain to the DTC participant of record. All claims not received directly from the DTC participant will be returned to the beneficial owner.
